

CLEANING LABORATORY EVALUATION SUMMARY

SCL #: 1996
 DateRun: 10/10/1996
 Experimenters: Jay Jankauskas
 ClientType: Biomedical Device Manufacturer
 ProjectNumber: Project #1
 Substrates: Stainless Steel
 PartType: Part
 Contaminants:
 Cleaning Methods:
 Analytical Methods: FTIR, OSEE
 Purpose: Cleanliness analysis results for impeller shafts

Experimental Procedure: I just finished analyzing the impeller shafts that you sent me the other week. The readings on this batch of parts seem to make a lot more sense than the previous readings. Both the alcohol soak and the Dow Corning OS10 soak removed some of the contamination to a degree, but it still looks like the vapor degreaser does a much better job.

Vapor Degreased	0.05232
Wipe with Green Thunder	0.08385
Alcohol wipe	0.05239
* FTIR reading of 0 corresponds to no contamination remaining
 Second set were measured with 6 drops of contaminated solvent instead of one
 Fr wires were measured with 20 drops of contaminated solvent instead of one
